

hyperTechnologies Privacy Policy

Any information collected by hyperTechnologies is for the sole purpose of providing services and support for the products of hyperTechnologies. hyperTechnologies will not share information with third parties outside of hyperTechnologies.

1. Information we Collect

We collect minimal contact information from our clients including the name, place of business, position, phone, and email for those using the software. This information will remain in secure hyperTechnologies databases and accessed only to support our products.

2. Use of Information

The information we collect will enable us to contact clients in the event of any product issues, product expiration, enhanced features, or any information relevant to providing the best support possible. The information will not be used for any purpose outside of supporting hyperTechnologies products.

3. Storage of Information

Information collected by hyperTechnologies will remain protected on hyperTechnologies databases with password secured access.

Information that is entered into hyperTechnologies software is maintained on a server with password secured access. The information will remain only on this server and on backup disks as specified for the software.

4. Removal of Data

Data collected by hyperTechnologies may be removed from the hyperTechnologies databases with a written request by the primary contact.

5. Cookies

hyperTechnologies will not place a 'cookie' or any other data on the client computer without prior knowledge and consent by the customer.
